

2011 KARTING

Above, Martin Doubek (46) is great in Rok Junior and KF3. He now leads both classes with a good margin.

Top, Intrepid driver Vrecka (3) is only 7 points behind Rotax Championship leader Feber, while Trnka (22) can only fight for the last podium spot.

ship lead. Turek had a big fight with Klar for 3rd, managing to claim it in the final scoreboard. Rok Junior saw Bezel protagonist, taking second in time practice at his debut in the class. First went to Doubek who also races in KF3 at international level. In the first heat the result didn't change, but in the second Krist took the win ahead of Stoklasa, Doubek and Bezel. In the last heat, Doubek got 10" penalty for dangerous driving, and the final win went to Krist ahead of Bezel and Doubek. ROK CZ saw Jan Midrła taking the qualifying practice, ahead of Adamek and Martinek. Midrła was the fastest all weekend and Halada, Cemper, Martinek, Pekác, and Adámek could only fight for runner-up. Halada had the better of the lot, taking 2nd overall ahead of Martinek, both for Tonykart Cz. Among the biggest favourites in Rotax Max were Vrecka, Reznik and Feber. The latter, who finished 2nd in Rotax Euro Challenge Master class at Wackersdorf (D), qualified only fifth. Vrecka took pole, ahead of MSKart driver Reznik and Trnka, going on to win all three heats and overall standings. Reznik and Feber had to settle for 2nd and 3rd respectively. In KF3, only five drivers took on the grids. The KF class is still not very popular in Czech Championship, mainly because classes like ROK and Rotax remain cheaper. However, some ROK drivers such as Doubek and Krist also take part in the KF class. This time, Doubek took the final win ahead of Krist and young lady-driver Seidlova. In KZ2, again the top Czech drivers like Panáčková, Janouš, Hájek and Tlustý took on the grids. Janouš and Hájek started a breathtaking duel, with the two drivers sharing the championship lead before the go. Qualifying practice went to Tlustý, followed by Kozub and Lipový. In the first heat Hájek suffered technical problems dropping down the field, while Janouš finished 4th and Panáčková 9th. With first position changing between Janouš, Tlustý, Hájek, the final scoreboard saw the Vmmotor driver Janouš taking the honours, ahead of Hájek for JOKA Kart team and David Belína for Orion racing team.
